The date on which the petition under 37 CFR 1.136(a) and the appropriate extension fee have been filed is the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: In response to applicant's argument made in the amendment filed on 12/21/2006 regarding the AU 9640808A reference, applicant should note that AU'808A, claim 10, recites that a magnetic recording layer and/or a printing ink layer is present on at least A PART OF THE SURFACE (and not on the whole surface as alleged by the applicant as "without exception").

For the film being transparent, applicant has correctly noted that the preferred embodiment is directed to a white polyester film. However, it is also noted that nowhere does the reference AU'808A recites that the film is "non-transparent" as contended by the applicant. Further, applicant should note that the instant claims does not specify the DEGREE OF TRANSPARENCY of the claimed protective film. In other words, the claim fails to teach if the transparency is 100% or 1% and, in the absence of such a teaching, the protective film of AU'808A is found to be transparent and reads on the invention as claimed.

Regarding Malhotra, applicant argues that the reference does not disclose an antistatic layer comprising polymers having pyrrolidinium rings in their main chains. This is not found to be persuasive because Malhotra clearly teaches that the antistatic pyrrolidinium ring structure in col. 30 and discloses that the radical R can include carbon atom of 20 or 30, which is taken to be the polymer chain. This should obviate applicant's concern that "it is difficult to point out that which is absent" because Malhotra does teach the pyrrolidinium ring in the main chain of the polymer as explained hereinabove.

For claim 12, applicant is directed to Malhotra, col. 7, lines 9-10, which recites that the "polyesters such as Mylar®", and it is well known in the art that Mylar® is polyethylene terephthalate.

For claims 10 and 11, applicant is directed to the last Office Action of 9/22/2006, paragraph-12 because the thickness of adhesive can be of 1 micron but can also be of any thickness. As for AU'808A mentioning that thicker than 1 micron, the adhesive lubricity deteriorates unfavorably, applicant should note that it does not state that the higher thickness is not possible. Similarly, Malhotra teaches "preferable...thickness of 0.5 microns or less", which is directed to a preferred embodiment therein .
